

Amazing Americana

Cloth & Company has a new partnership with the Philadelphia Museum of Art and the legendary quilting community of Gee's Bend, Alabama. The furniture line is upholstered in digitally reproduced artwork of five quilts from these esteemed Gee's Bend artists: Mary Lee Bendolph, Delia Bennett, Annie E. Pettway, Loretta Pettway, and Magdalene Wilson. Price upon request; shop.clothandcompany.com

Whimsical Wallcoverings

Transport yourself to an Italian villa with Fine & Dandy Co.'s hand-painted wallcovering offerings. Their new collection, Fantasticheria, was designed by fine artist Hazel Lee Santino and radiates opulence. Each pattern pairs with Fine & Dandy Co.'s new Fresco substrate, which imitates the look of age-worn stucco or plaster. $496 a roll; fineanddandycompany.com

Editor's Picks

One of the perks of being an editor? I get to discover the latest and greatest in beauty, fashion, and design. Consider this my A-list.

BY KELLI LAMB

The House of Lalique

Founded in 1888 and considered "the jewel in the crown of the French glass and crystal industry," Lalique is certainly a symbol of luxury. I admire the craftsmanship of their pieces, from this Bacchantes vase (originally designed in 1927) to their charming holiday ornaments. $1,600; us.lalique.com

Hotel at Home

Soho Home has launched three vanities (available in single and double units) inspired by Soho House bathrooms around the world. Pictured here is the Carlisle, pulled from their newest Southern California outpost, Holloway House. Starting at $3,995; sohohome.com

Considered Craftsmanship

Lostine's new Cora Table Lamp is handcrafted in Pennsylvania and features an elegant bottle shape that's reminiscent of the Bauhaus movement. As the daughter of a woodworker, I greatly appreciate that it's available in walnut or aspen—both incredibly beautiful and unique wood varieties. $950; lostine.com

Rose City Style

The saying is “keep Portland weird,” but I say keep it stylish! I recently had a weekend at The Hoxton, a beautifully designed hotel that’s inspired by Northwest modernist design that swept through the city in the 1960s. Don’t miss the rooftop taco spot or the sorta-secret speakeasy in the basement. thehoxton.com/portland

Bright and Balanced

The crystal glass orbs of Corbett Lighting’s Anney Sconce are beautiful...and hiding a cool design detail. The LED-lit orbs can be swapped with the brass piece in any arrangement, so style each one to be asymmetrical if you please. $900; hv1group.com

Natural Beauty

New-to-me clean beauty brand Caliray has the best tubing mascara I’ve tried. (Tubing mascara is awesome because it’s really easy to remove—it won’t smudge, and just rolls off with warm water when you’re ready!) Plus, their formula has lash-conditioning argan oil—bonus! $24; caliraybeauty.com

In Place

Though I usually gravitate towards their throw pillows, Oregon-based Filling Spaces has an incredible collection of table linens. These quilted, scalloped placemats will dress up any dinner table. $30 for 1; fillingspaces.com

Pass the Hippie Stick

Bobbi Brown has done it again with the Jones Road Hippie Stick. This balm melts onto face, body, and hair—basically anywhere you could use a little extra moisture—and acts like a barrier against the elements. I keep it within easy reach to help my sensitive skin survive the dry winter air. $32; jonesroadbeauty.com

Sleeping Beauty

“Sleeper sofas” don’t usually conjure up images of a good night’s rest, but Sixpenny’s new offerings might change your mind. Each one features a premium mattress and is built on a trifold gliding frame. You’d never know this chic seat is hiding a bed! Starting at $3,849; sixpenny.com

↑
Furniture Made to Age
 Blair Moore of Moore House Design has a line of luxury furniture and vintage pieces. ROWEAM includes a mix of old and new, which Blair calls "old vintage" and "new vintage." The "new" collection is built to last and ultimately become vintage, with each piece celebrating craftsmanship, heritage, and patina.
 $6,000; roweam.com
 Photo by Zack DeZon

↘
Ready, Set, Bake
 I have really enjoyed cooking and baking in my recently renovated kitchen. My favorite t-shirts? Not so much. After one too many stains, I realized it was time to snag a cute apron and I have my eye on this darling vintage-inspired plaid option from Morrow. It's made of a lightweight cotton and the straps are all adjustable.
 $49; morrowsoftgoods.com

↑
Paint the Town
 There has not been a single issue of Rue that doesn't feature the beautiful, textural lime washes and Roman clays that Portola Paints is known for. (It's certainly a prominent paint in my own home!) This year, the family-owned and operated business celebrates 25 years with designer-curated collections and a new showroom in North Hollywood.
 portolapaints.com

Home Is Where the Hearth Is
 Dallas-based interior and architectural designer Eddie Maestri of Maestri Studio has an impressive line of nine mantels. The boldly geometric designs are crafted from a variety of materials like limestone, travertine, and marble.
 $5,100; maestrigallery.com

↑
Save Your Skin
 Albyn Beauty is based in Jackson Hole, Wyoming—so they know what the harsh winter elements can do to our skin. Their new moisturizer is a rich, restorative barrier repair cream with ceramides, ghostberry, and peptides to deeply replenish hydration and (you'll love this) help relax the appearance of wrinkles.
 $62; alpynbeauty.com

↑
Everyday Essentials
I love when the things you use daily—like a faucet, for example—bring joy. Speakman's Proper Bridge Faucet has a vintage design inspired by the English countryside. The double cross handles are a great detail. speakman.com

→
Simple but Special
Design powerhouse Emily Henderson has a new collection with Rugs USA, and it's all inspired by the distinctive design sensibility that made her a star. I really love the bold pattern of the Raleigh Striped Jute Rug, pictured here. Starting at $135; rugsusa.com

Design Sanctuary
Armadillo has a new American flagship in the heart of the La Cienega Design Quarter of Los Angeles. Their luxury rugs are on display at their new location, which boasts curved walls and a barrel-vaulted, 15-foot-high ceiling. It was inspired by the tones and textures of high-end fashion ateliers in Paris and Tokyo and, as Armadillo is a certified B Corp, runs on 100% renewable energy. armadillo-co.com
Photo by Sharyn Cairns

→
Shine Bright
I am always on the hunt for a little sparkle. SKN is meant to wear like a second skin—think everyday pieces of luxury. They offer beautifully simple designs at a variety of price points. $875; skncollections.com

↑
Essential Innerwear
While most use winter as an excuse to shop for new outerwear, I'm always on the hunt for innerwear. The lounge-wear from Subset is a dream—made with organic cotton and just tailored enough that you don't feel sloppy if unexpected guests pop by. wearsubset.com